Welcome to the new lobby of Hôtel de Paris Monte-Carlo

Step through the revolving door of Hôtel de Paris Monte-Carlo and let your senses guide you... First, admire the light: Here and there, reflections from newly gilded decorations dance on the walls, while new lighting bathes the lobby in a radiant glow. Walk across the brand new flooring and breathe in the scent of today's bouquet... Now stop, listen. You may hear a few stray notes floating out from the American Bar. Finally, reach out and touch the statue of King Louis XIV on horseback... Some say touching his horses right leg brings luck at the gaming table! A brand new lobby that hasn't betrayed its roots. They've all been here. Great men, glamorous women, and now, it's your turn.
