Welcome to magical Kenya

Dolphin Watching in Kenya

For marine wildlife lovers Kenya's South Coast offers a special treat where 120 Bottlenose dolphins can be found between August and March. Just off the south coast of Wasini Island, Kisite-Mpunguti Marine National Park is one of the best marine reserves in Kenya. The park covers 28 sq km of pristine coral reefs and offers excellent diving and snorkeling. Another place for Dolphin spotting is the Malindi and Watamu Marine reserve, which provide great sighting opportunities between September and February.

Did You Know ?

Swimming with Dolphins has been recognized as one of life's special moments and even medically challenged non-swimmers derive enormous benefit and pleasure from this most natural and uplifting experience.
